

October 1, 2026

Dear Rett Community,

We are pleased to announce that the applications for the Rett Sibling Scholarship, sponsored by Acadia Pharmaceuticals Inc, are now open for the 2027-2028 academic year here. The Rett Sibling Scholarship intends to recognize the unique experiences of siblings in the Rett community and support them as they take the next step in their educational goals.

As part of our continued commitment to supporting siblings of individuals living with Rett syndrome, Acadia has increased the scholarship award to $7,500 for the 2027–2028 academic year to better reflect the rising costs associated with pursuing an education. We are proud to continue building on the impact of this program.

How to Apply

The application process is fully administered by International Scholarship and Tuition Services (ISTS), Inc., a firm that specializes in managing sponsored scholarship programs. Applications can be submitted online through January 28, 2027. Students will be required to provide a variety of materials such as academic transcripts, information on activities, goals, and family circumstances, as well as an original essay.

To learn more about the Rett Sibling Scholarship, or to apply, those interested are encouraged to visit RettScholarship.com.

Thank you for all you do.

All our best,
The Acadia Rett Team